

Governor Link Roles

Governors play an important role in the school. They are charged with monitoring the effectiveness of the school and ensuring staff have the support and the resources to do their job properly.

Each Governor will be linked to one member of teaching staff and in turn will use this link to more fully understand the subjects those teachers co-ordinate. It is important to understand that they are not only interested in their link teacher – their role is monitoring the teacher’s subject portfolio across the school. The link, however, is the starting point and key contact for those discussions.

Governors will be in touch with teaching staff in the near future to arrange a time to come in, talk through priorities for the subject and understand the Intent of the subject in our school and how it is Implemented.

They will want to look at the subject(s) across the school to see it in action but it is not their job to make judgements about the quality of provision, only to ask questions to gain a deeper insight and report back to Governors if extra support is needed for the subject leader, for example.
